Competition Notes

Introduction

1. Windlesham Highwaymen (HWM) run a wide range of competitions at their regular Thursday rollups. They are open to all WGL members over the age of 55, irrespective of handicap.
2. Competitions offer a diverse range of formats – both competitive and social – covering medal, stableford, match play and team formats. We run up to 20 qualifiers each year, mainly during the summer season, and mainly off yellow tees, recognising the diverse ages and abilities of the group.
3. The HWM meet almost every Thursday starting at the first tee time of the day. It is operated as a “virtual rollup” whereby those wanting to play register, with preferred time slot, in advance in the Future Competition section of HandicapMaster. Players are then allocated a tee time and playing partners selected at random.
4. The Thursday rollups offer a mixture of formal and informal competitions. These notes deal specifically with the formal competitions but all rollups will have a summary of the day’s rules on the HWM website and also in the regular Parish Notices. Details of how the rollup operates can be found in Appendix 1 to the HWM constitution available on our website.
5. In addition to the rollup competitions we also run several match play competitions throughout the year.
6. The specific competitions covered by these notes are
 - Winter Eclectic
 - Winter Pairs
 - Kim Short Trophy
 - Elliott Cup
 - Costello Bowl
 - Serenyi Salver
 - Staunton Pairs
 - Thomas Trophy
 - Balgarnie Cup
 - Committee Cup
 - HWM Tour Trophy

Competition Notes

Winter Eclectic

1. The Eclectic is a multi-round golf competition that results in one 18-hole score per player calculated by selecting the best gross score for each individual hole over the number of rounds played. The competition is played in the months of October, November, (early) December and March.
2. Each player's Eclectic score is calculated by taking his score, as above, and deducting 50% of the player's exact WHS Playing Handicap at the start of his most recent round.
3. Up to 6 Thursday roll ups will be designated "Eclectic Rounds" and the dates posted on the Highwaymen's notice board and on the Highwaymen's Website. A player's first 5 Eclectic rounds count towards his final Eclectic score.
4. The Competition is a normal HWM rollup. Players must sign into the club computer and record their scores to count in the competition. It is open to all players irrespective of handicap.
5. The competition is played off yellow tees (or any single tee in force at the time) and the first and last rounds will usually be classed as Acceptable Scores. Any holes subject to temporary greens will not count as part of that day's formal Eclectic competition but will count towards the day's rollup competition.
6. Exact current Playing Handicaps will be used throughout all rounds. Any change in handicap, up or down, during a player's first 5 rounds will be reflected in the final Eclectic score.
7. The winner of the Competition is the player with the lowest Eclectic score after all rounds have been played. In the event that two players have an identical Eclectic score normal count back rules will apply with handicaps pro-rated over the number of holes involved.
8. The Competition Secretary processes the scores for the Eclectic Competition via the Highwaymen's Admin app on <https://admin.wgchighwaymen.co.uk/>, using the Eclectic Tab/Overview. The tab contains step by step instructions.
9. The Trophy will be presented at the HWM Xmas Dinner. Cash prizes will be awarded on the day of each round of the competition under normal HWM rollup rules.
10. The standings in the competition can be found at <https://wgchighwaymen.co.uk/home/eclectic>.

7. After the last designated round, the winner of the Elliott Cup is the player with the highest total number of points on his best three rounds ("qualifying rounds").
8. In the event that more than one player has the same total score on qualifying rounds, then the winner will be the player with the highest number of points on the last of his three qualifying rounds played. If after the above calculation scores are still equal then the same principle will apply to the penultimate qualifying round. In the even that scores are still equal then normal count back rules will apply on the card for the last qualifying round played (and then second to last etc) until a winner is determined.
