Autumn arrives as does the Eclectic Round 1

The joy of the Eclectic is that Round 1 is all about establishing a solid baseline. The goal on Thursday was not about necessarily playing a flawless round but having a first round that gives you the opportunity to chip away as the next 5 rounds get played. All those HWM that walked away with a bogey or worse - and yes there were quite a few of the HWM who suffered that - will have the opportunity to get that par or better and move up the table.

Who will wrest the Winter Eclectic (Thomson Cup) off our new Club Captain and current holder - Martin Roads. Well from the 62 players that played in Round 1 we have an early leader in Alan Ford who managed 9 par holes. Likewise Stuart Armstrong with 11 pars both had a great day.
